Robust Demand for Space Along the I-4 Corridor and a Strong Investor Appetite Fueled Tampa's Industrial Market in 2019

Tampa's industrial market performed well in 2019 as e-commerce fueled both industrial demand and development. Heading into 2020, commercial real estate in Tampa is going to be affected by a combination of headwinds and tailwinds, however the industrial sector is expected to continue its strong performance – particularly within the growing I-4 corridor. While a cease-fire has been declared in the trade war with China, the upcoming presidential election and escalating tensions in the Middle East may create some degree of volatility as the year progresses. Despite the current geopolitical stress, the U.S. economy is entering its 11th year of expansion and 2020 is expected to be another strong year for the industrial market. Investment activity is anticipated to remain strong as industrial remains a preferred asset class for investors due to strong demand, rental rate appreciation, and the ripple effects of an ever-expanding e-commerce sector.

Net absorption was strong during 2019 at just over three million sf due in large part to the delivery of several industrial buildings that were either partly or fully preleased. Bulk distribution rents have increased by 5.9% over the trailing 12 months ending December 2019 and warehouse/distribution rents remain relatively flat year-over-year. Industrial development continues at a brisk pace along the I-4 corridor, and several additional new projects are being planned. All in all, Tampa's industrial market is very solid heading into 2020.

Several new developments are being planned within the rapidly expanding I-4 corridor in order to sate robust industrial demand

Industrial Market Snapshot

- Chicago-based Brennan Investment Group acquired a 165-acre site in the fast-growing Lakeland submarket during the fourth quarter and is planning a 1.5 million sf industrial park to be known as CenterState Logistics Park East. The first phase is comprised of a 1+ million sf distribution building that will break ground on speculation, with delivery expected by the end of 2020.
- Nearly 12 million sf of new industrial space has been delivered over the last five years and another 3.4 million sf remains under construction. Just under 5 million sf was delivered in 2019 by key developers including McDonald Development Company, Duke Realty Corp., Xebec Realty Partners, McCraney Property Company, Cabot Properties and Becknell. Recent development announcements include US Capital Development's plans for a 303,006-sf speculative distribution center in the Plant City/East Hillsborough submarket, a new Amazon air cargo facility near Lakeland Linder International Airport, a new distribution hub for Home Depot, and Amazon's fourth distribution center in Polk County.
- At the close of the year, Parkway Properties closed on the purchase of 725 acres in Lakeland, a site that is entitled for up to 5.5 million sf of industrial development, along with 650,000 sf of office, 225,000 sf of retail, 300 residential units, and up to 125 hotel rooms.

- The industrial sector continues to attract big investors, with many moving from the retail sector into industrial property investment. As e-commerce continues to drive structural shifts, larger investors are increasingly interested in investing in the back end of the internet, placing their capital in fulfillment and distribution centers. The net result is an increase in deal volume and accelerating rents in primary distribution corridors
- The Federal Reserve cited global developments as the rationale for further reducing its policy rate by 25 basis points to a target range of 1.50% to 1.75% in October, after which Fed Chairman Jerome Powell signaled that he felt monetary policy was in a good place as trade tensions were easing and Brexit was coming under control.
- Industrial investment activity was strong over the past year, with total industrial investment sales volume of $764 million over the trailing 12-month period ending December 2019, and $3.6 billion in total investment sales occurring over the past five years. The largest sale during the fourth quarter was the acquisition of 580 Corporate Center, a 363,602-sf flex development in the Mid-Pinellas/Gateway submarket of Pinellas County. Adler Kawa Real Estate Advisors purchased the property for $47.1 million, or $127 per sf.

T-12 Month Sales Volume Down 21% Due to a Slow Fourth Quarter

Total industrial investment sales volume for 2019 was down 20.6% over the previous year, due in large part to a smaller number of large portfolio transactions and a slower-than-usual fourth quarter. Forty-six industrial transactions closed during the year totaling 9.4 million sf. Total sales volume during the fourth quarter accounted for only 12% of the year's activity, partly due to a smaller number of quality buildings on the market after several successive years of solid investment activity.
