Tampa's Office Market Continued to Evolve During 2019, and is Well Positioned to Further Transform in 2020

Fueled by continued steady business expansion, strong in-migration, vigorous employment growth, and solid consumer confidence, Tampa's office market is heading into 2020 in excellent shape. High-profile mixed-use projects are planned or underway within key submarkets, including within the urban cores of both downtown Tampa and downtown St Petersburg, and there are multiple transportation projects planned that will help to ease congestion. On the investment sales side, interest rates have moderated after the yield curve inversion during the third quarter and the pace of job growth in Tampa continues to outpace both the state of Florida and the nation as a whole.

Leasing activity was solid during the fourth quarter, with 14 deals over 10,000 sf taking place, and office investment was brisk with $245.7 million in total sales volume. Net absorption was solid by the year's end, due in part to the delivery of the fully leased MetWest Three building in Westshore. Rental rate growth has been strong, increasing by 5.2% in the trailing 12-month period ending with the fourth quarter of 2019, and class A rents accelerating by 5.7% during the same period. Moving into what will likely be a contentious election year punctuated by geopolitical issues overseas, the Tampa office market appears well positioned to weather any short-term headwinds. Investment sales and leasing activity are expected to remain healthy in 2020 and both population and employment growth are projected to persist at a healthy rate.

1.3 million SF of speculative class A construction is underway in six office projects throughout Tampa, up from 250,000 sf at year-end 2018.

Office Market Snapshot

- In addition to the high-profile office developments already underway in the Tampa market, another key project broke ground during the fourth quarter. The much-anticipated 9-story, 270,000 sf SkyCenter One building is under construction at Tampa International Airport in the Westshore submarket. Developed by Kansas City-based VanTrust Real Estate, the project is part of a $2 billion expansion of the airport and The Hillsborough County Aviation Authority will be occupying three floors upon completion. CAE USA, a leading training and simulation company doing business in the defense market, is also underway on a new U.S. headquarters building at the airport.
- The Federal Reserve cited global developments as the rationale for further reducing its policy rate by 25 basis points to a target range of 1.50% to 1.75% in October, after which Fed Chairman Jerome Powell signaled that he felt monetary policy was in a good place as trade tensions were easing and Brexit was coming under control.
- Late in the fourth quarter, a division of Jacksonville-based Fanatics, Inc. signed a 92,000-sf lease to backfill half of the building left vacant in the Westshore area by Laser Spine Institute's abrupt shutdown earlier in the year. The company will be consolidating its Tampa operations into the building during 2020.
- The Westshore area continues to grow through the creative reuse of underutilized or long vacant properties. The former Sears box at the Westshore Mall is the subject of a proposed mixed-use redevelopment that would consist of three 12-story towers fronting Westshore Blvd that could include up to 380,000 sf of office space. Also noteworthy is Wood Partners' rezoning request for the long dark Tiger Direct building in order to construct a 285-unit apartment development. Finally, the 300,000-sf Austin Center office park was 'reborn' as Westshore City Center during 2019, with a pending $10 million renovation planned.
- Governor Ron DeSantis announced during the fourth quarter that the state would contribute $1.4 billion to rebuild the Westshore Blvd interchange in 2023. Construction is expected to take 4-5 years.
- Red Apple Group, which is controlled by New York billionaire John Catsimatidis, is moving forward on a planned 45-story, 300unit luxury condo tower with 225-room hotel and 20,000 sf of office space on a 2.3-acre site on Central Avenue in downtown St. Petersburg following approval by the city's development review commission. Work is scheduled to begin in the spring of 2020 and construction costs are estimated at $300 million.
